3. What is the legal basis and what are the purposes for the processing of your data?

We process your personal data in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the Slovak data protection laws and all other relevant legal provisions. Processing is carried out:

Personal data is processed for the execution of the respective contractual relationships and related contractual obligations (e.g. delivery, billing, quality assurance, etc.).

Where necessary, we process your data beyond the extent required to fulfil our contractual obligations, in order to safeguard our legitimate interests and those of third parties.

Provided that you have consented to our processing of your personal data for specific purposes (e.g. identity credentials, customer information), the processing is deemed to be lawful based on your consent. Any consent given may be withdrawn at any time. Withdrawing consent does not affect the lawfulness of the data processed up to the withdrawal.

This also includes, for example, the fulfilment of statutory reporting duties pursuant to the Slovak Tax Code and within the scope of the statutory obligations for record retention.

In addition, we avail ourselves of the support of service providers, known as “data processors”, depending on the occasion and in each case based on appropriate agreements. This may also include Group companies.

5. Are your data transferred to any third country?

No personal data are transferred to third countries.

If, however, we forward personal data in the future to offices in countries outside the European Economic Area (EEA), we will only forward them provided the third country has had an appropriate level of data protection confirmed by the EU Commission, or provided other suitable data protection guarantees are in place (e.g. an agreement with the standard contractual clauses of the EU Commission).

6. How long will your data be stored?

We process and store your personal data for as long as required to fulfil our contractual and statutory obligations (in particular in accordance with commercial law and tax legislation). In this regard, it must be noted that the retention period varies according to the purpose of the data processing. If the data are no longer required to fulfil contractual or statutory obligations, they are erased or anonymised on a regular basis.

7. What are your data protection rights?

Every data subject has the right to information pursuant to Article 15 GDPR, the right to rectification pursuant to Article 16 GDPR, the right to erasure pursuant to Article 17 GDPR, the right to restriction of processing pursuant to Article 18 GDPR, the right to

Within the scope of the contractual relationship, you must provide the personal data that are required to record and execute the contract and to fulfil the contractual obligations associated with it, or which we are legally obliged to collect.
